

FACILITY ENGINEERING

- Specializes in the transformation of a raw material through a series of unit operations to produce a salable product on a large scale basis in a safe and economic manner.

Primary responsibilities...

- Develop process and facilities basis of design
- Design for safe, reliable operation over asset life, considering production profiles
- Optimize operations of installed facilities
- Debottleneck facilities when production rates or inlet pressures change from design basis
- Troubleshoot operational problems at installed facilities

